Really important

- Might you need 1 or 2 Science subjects?
- Might you need a particular grade in a subject?
- Might you need a practical subject?
- What is the Maths requirement?
- Might you need a modern foreign language?

Third Language?

- Please research carefully

What to choose if you are unsure-

A broad range e.g

practical and one other.....

Or

1 practical, 1 science
and two others.....

There are many possible combinations

You want to keep your options open and leave room for changing your mind.

Do not.....

- Follow the crowd
- Choose a subject because your friends are doing it

CAT 4 - Cognitive Ability Test

Explanation & Parent Report Analysis

Uses of CAT 4 Assessment

provides you with an accurate analysis of potential student achievement.

provides a rounded profile of student ability.

you can target support, provide the right level of challenge, and make informed decisions about their progress.

Reports indicate strengths supporting subject choice across four main areas.

It helps teachers understand how students learn, what barriers to learning they may have and their academic potential.

Areas assessed by CAT 4

Verbal Reasoning	the ability to express ideas and reason through words. It is a skill that is essential to subjects with a high language content .
Non-verbal Reasoning	problem-solving using pictures and diagrams ; skills which are important in a wide range of school subjects, including maths and science-based subjects.
Spatial Reasoning	the capacity to think and draw conclusions in three dimensions , needed for many STEM subjects
Quantitative Reasoning	the ability to use numerical skills to solve problems , applicable well beyond mathematics.

What is CAT4?

Your child has taken the Cognitive Abilities Test Fourth Edition (CAT4) which assesses how well a student can think about tasks and solve problems using a range of different questions.

Some tasks involved thinking about shapes and patterns (Non-verbal Reasoning), some with words (Verbal Reasoning) or numbers (Quantitative Reasoning) and, finally, some questions were answered by thinking about shape and space together and imagining a shape being changed and moving (Spatial Ability).

Why use CAT4?

- CAT4 is used in many schools across Ireland to provide information to teachers, students and parents that, with other information, forms the basis for discussion about how best an individual can learn and reach his or her potential in school.
- CAT4 does not require any prior knowledge and you cannot 'learn' how to answer the questions in CAT4. It is therefore a good test because everyone starts at the same place.
- The abilities tested in CAT4, such as spatial ability, may be difficult to demonstrate in the classroom so it is important that teachers know the level of a student's ability in such areas.
- CAT4 contributes to setting targets and allows an individual's progress to be monitored.
- CAT4 results will help teachers decide about the pace of learning that is right for an individual and whether additional support or challenge is needed.
- CAT4, unlike an English or maths test, is not a test of what the student has learned. It tests how an individual can think in areas that are known to make a difference to learning and achievement.

Example questions

Verbal Reasoning Battery – thinking with words

Verbal Classification

Three words are presented which are similar in some way or ways. From a selection of five possible answers, the student must identify a fourth word with similar properties.

The answer is snow because rain, fog and sunshine are all types of weather and snow is also a type of weather.

Verbal Analogies

A pair of connected words is presented alongside a single word. From a selection of five possible answers, the student must select a word to complete the second pair in the same way.

The answer is window, because a carpet goes on a floor and a curtain hangs at a window.

Quantitative (or Numerical) Reasoning Battery – thinking with numbers

Number Analogies

Two pairs of related numbers are presented. From a selection of five possible answers, the student must select a number to complete a third pair.

The answer is 8. Here 1 add 1 makes 2, but that doesn't work for the second pair because 5 add 1 is 6, not 10. Instead, you have to multiply by 2 to get the second part of each pair, so 4 times 2 is 8.

Number Series

A sequence of numbers created by a transformation rule is presented. From a selection of five possible answers, the student must identify the rule and continue the sequence.

The answer is 15. There are two number patterns in this series. The first, third and fifth numbers go down by 1 at a time – 18, 17 then 16. The numbers in between them go up by two at a time – 5, 7 then 9. This means the next number must be 16 minus 1, giving 15.

Non-verbal Reasoning Battery – thinking with shapes

Figure Classification

Three designs are presented which are similar in some way or ways. From a selection of five possible answers, the student must identify a fourth design with similar properties.

The answer is E because it is the only answer choice that is a striped semi-circle, like the first three figures.

Section 2: Graph & Summary

Profile

Summary

██████████ profile of scores from CAT4 suggests he may have a slight preference for learning that uses visual images – pictures, diagrams, moving images, etc. rather than learning by reading, writing and talking about topics.

- ██████████ should use online resources, videos and books with plenty of pictures to help remember key facts and information.
- ██████████ may find much of his schoolwork difficult.
- Does ██████████ find reading and maths difficult? If so, he may need some extra help working at home under guidance from school.
- When you are helping with homework, make sure that ██████████ understands each step of the task before moving on. It is important that ██████████ learns at a pace that is right for him.
- Tell ██████████ to ask the teacher to explain anything that is not clear.
